

Byron.

Much as has been said and written in reputation of the character and sentiments of Lord Byron, the instances in which justice, even partial justice, has been done to his memory, are few and far between.

That Byron was a character in which vice and virtue were rather anomalously blended, and the latter often nearly or quite obscured by the former, is a proposition the genuineness of which few even of his most ardent admirers are inclined to deny. But that he was wholly and radically vicious, no one who has carefully perused his writings, and dwelt over the touching incidents of his domestic history, can candidly contend.

Few men have been guerdoned with the genius of Byron, and fewer still have been reduced to his extremity of woe.

"If aught in thee
Saffron'd thy brightness—none shall see
The blemish. Men should view, like me,
Thy life's short dream,
And let thy faults, like Swan's feet, be
Sink in the stream!"

The following beautiful and touching lines, addressed to Lady Byron soon after their separation, will read with interest by every one whose breast has not been rendered callous to the sufferings and afflictions of one whose name is imperishably recorded.

"Already on the roll
Of meteor minds,
Add to his memory
"The votive anthem of the free
And brave, and beautiful ascends, where'er
The heart has pulses, or the eye a tear."
WINHAM, Mo. Sept. 1840. H. D. W.

Fare Thee Well.

BY GEORGE NOEL BYRON.

Fare thee well! and if forever,
Still forever, fare thee well!
Even though unforgiving, never
'Gainst thee shall this heart rebel.
Would that breast were bare before thee
Where thy head so oft hath lain,
While that placid sleep came o'er thee
Which thou'lt ne'er canst know again:
Would that breast by thee glanced over,
Every inmost thought could show!
Then thou wouldst at last discover
"Twas not well to slight it so."

Though the world for this commend thee—
Though it smile upon the blow,
Even its praises must offend thee,
Founded on another's woe—
Though my many faults defaced me,
Could no other hand be found
Than the one which once embraced me,
To inflict a careless wound!
Yet, oh yet, thyself deceive not,
Love may sink by slow decay,
But by sudden venue, believe not
Hearts can thus be torn away.

Still thine own life retaineth—
Still must mine, though bleeding, beat;
And the undying thought which paineth
Is—that we no more may meet.
These are words of deeper sorrow
Than the wail above the dead;
Both shall live, but every morrow
Wake us from a widow's bed.
And when thou wouldst solace gather,
When our child's first accents flow,
With thou teach her to say "FATHER"
Through his care she must forego!

When her little hand shall press thee,
When her lip to thine is pressed,
Think of him whose prayer shall bless thee,
Think of him thy love had blessed!
Should her lineaments resemble
Those thou never more mayst see,
Then thy heart will softly tremble
With a pulse yet true to me.
All my pulses pierce thou knowest,
All my madness none can know;
All my hopes, where'er thou goest,
Whither yet with thee they go.

Every feeling hath been shaken;
Pride, which not a word could bow,
Bows to thee—by thee forsaken.
Even my soul forewakes me now;
But 'tis done—all forewakes me now;
Words from me are vainlier still;
But the thoughts we cannot baffle
Force their way without the will.
Fare thee well—thus disunited,
Torn from every nearer tie,
Sear'd in heart, and love, and bright—
More than this, I scarce can die.

EARLY MARRIAGES.—One of the causes of discontent arises from early marriages, which is a distinguished feature of this country. Long before a girl has gone through her studies, usual and ornamental she is thinking of getting married, and falls in love with a young gentleman with curly locks, who danced with her at the last party; and if she receives any encouragement, she is miserable until a match is arranged; and a hasty marriage opens the eyes of both parties to the silly step they have taken. No girl should marry under twenty; and it would do them no harm to remain single until twenty five, then the mind is matured and the constitution formed. A proper course of studies for a young lady cannot terminate under fifteen or sixteen, and then her domestic duties should begin. On a sound education and accomplishments she should engrave a perfect and practical knowledge of domestic affairs; learn to make herself useful in such departments of household duties exclusively the task of women; and after she has had full experience after all romance has vanished, the sober, sedate, yet joyous and happy state of matrimony ensues; she enters upon her new duties with confidence, based on that experience; her choice is cautiously not hastily made, and she has the prospect of every happiness in her new position, and such things as separation or divorce never enter into her imagination.

RATHER SEVERE.—A Country clergyman observed to his friend that upon the last Sabbath, he was much disturbed by a cow who looked in the door, and bellowed in his face. "Sir," says the other, "she saw a calf in the pulpit."

New Establishment.

TAILORING IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.

O. S. COLEMAN &amp; JOHN M. SEARCEY.

HAVE the pleasure to announce to the citizens of Glasgow and of the surrounding country, that, having connected themselves in business, in the town of Glasgow, and having made arrangements to carry on their trade on an extensive scale, they are now prepared to receive orders for work, pledging themselves to execute, not only in a workmanlike order, according to the general acceptance of the term, but in the latest and most approved fashion. The senior flatters himself, that, during his long residence in Glasgow and its vicinity, he has gained a reputation, by his works, which will vie with that of any of his brothers, as a workman, and the junior, although not as well known in the immediate vicinity of Glasgow, he believes from his long experience in the business at Huntsville, Randolph county and at Fayette, he can speak with confidence of his skill and ability; he is willing at any rate to stand or fall by the reputation gained at the above named places.

Cutting attended to with promptness, and the same attention paid as if the making was to be done in the shop.

Reports of the latest fashions received regularly from Paris, London, New York and Philadelphia.

N. B. Cloaks and Habits made in the latest fashion, and the Ladies may rest assured that their Cloaks, and Habits, will be made in an improved and we trust approved manner.

JOHN M. SEARCEY,

Hays' Liniment.

The only true and genuine Liniment, and so declared by the oath of Mr. Solomon Hays, has never been made known to any person or persons except Messrs. Comstock and Co., and they only have the right to prepare the said genuine Liniment, which has established a reputation for effectually curing the Piles in every case, and in all the various stages of the complaint; also Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Sores and Ulcers of long standing. All who have ever used it are highly pleased with its effects, and all who are in need of cures for any of the complaints mentioned, are respectfully requested to ask any one who has ever used it. And we refer with confidence to all who know of the article, and especially to Matthew J. Myers, Esq. of Athens, N. Y., and Gen. Duff Green, late of Washington city, all of whom speak in the strongest terms and with the fullest confidence from personal application and knowledge of its positive and never failing cures.

LOOK OUT.

Some swindlers have counterfeited this article, and put it up with various devices. Do not be imposed upon. One thing only will protect you—it is the name of Comstock and Co., that name must be always on the wrapper, or you are cheated. Do not forget it. Take this direction with you and test by that, or never buy; for it is impossible for any other to be true or genuine.

SOLEMAN HAYS.
Sold wholesale by Comstock and Co., 2 Fletcher street, N. Y., and by nearly every storekeeper in America.
For sale at the Drug and Bookstore of Dr. TALBOT.

Look Out!!

"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.
An attack of the "Piles" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT.—There are more than one hundred people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach: of this there is the most perfect proof.

None genuine without the name of Comstock & Co. written on the wrapper.

SOLEMAN HAYS.
Sold at No. 2 Fletcher street, N. Y.
For sale at the Drug and Bookstore of Dr. TALBOT, Fayette.

Caution Circular.

To Druggists and Country Merchants.
Those valuable articles OLD RICE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA for the Hair, and HAYS' LINIMENT for the Piles, &c. have been extensively counterfeited. Those wanting these preparations, will please always write, when ordering from any other house, for Comstock & Co. The true articles have the name or signature always on the wrapper, and vendors will do well to remember that when ordering, as the imitations are so exposed in nearly all the newspapers throughout the country, that they could not be sold, should they be so unfortunate as to get them.

Our friends throughout the Union are requested to give us immediate notice, by letter, should any of the counterfeits appear in their respective places. Respectfully,
COMSTOCK & CO.
Wholesale Druggists, 2 Fletcher st., N. Y.

OLD RICE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA.
This article was first introduced into the New York market about 20 years since, and from its superior virtues in reproducing hair when it has fallen out, keeping the head free from dandruff, (most noxious article on a gentleman's coat collar,) and giving a softness and beautiful lustre unknown before to the hair, has induced some persons to get up and advertise many other articles for the same purpose, none of which stand the test of trial, professing as most of them do, to be oils of various kinds, all of which are positively injurious to the human hair. Let none be deceived, no other article will make the hair grow rapidly and of a good quality; but the Balm of Columbia, no article purporting to be the Balm of Columbia is genuine without the name of Comstock & Co. on the outside wrapper. Some have been deceived and obtained a counterfeit article for the true and genuine Balm of Columbia. Remember to look for the name of Comstock & Co. on the wrapper, before you purchase, and get none but the genuine. Don't be deceived with the assurance that any without the name of Comstock & Co. is made in the same way and is just as good, all such pretensions are false and known to be so by the Counterfeits.

Sold Wholesale and Retail, only at No. 2 Fletcher street, N. Y. by Comstock & Co., and by nearly every storekeeper throughout America.

For sale at the Drug and Bookstore of Doctor TALBOT.

To the Bald Headed.

This is to certify, that I have been bald about 20 years, and by the use of the genuine BALM OF COLUMBIA, my head is now covered with hair. I shall be happy to convince any one of the fact that will call and see me at Delhi village. The above article I bought at Griswold, Case and Co.'s store, who had it from Comstock and Co.

JOHN JAQUISH, Jr.
Delhi, July 17, 1840.

Prospectus of the Times.

The Proprietors of the Times have awaited the discontinuance of the Stockholder, as the period most opportune for the realization of the hope with which they have been encouraged in relation to such an extension of their subscription list as shall render their establishment permanent, by relieving its conductors from all fear of embarrassment.

The election of General HARRISON—now regarded as a matter of absolute certainty—and the consequent change of Administration—the condition of the country—and the great measures of national policy, which must be discussed and settled without delay, lead to the belief, that we are but entering upon an epoch of unsurpassed interest and importance in the history of our country.

In addition to this, every man may now feel himself able to take a paper.

The political character of the "Times" will remain the same as heretofore, although we hope soon to change its tones, from those of complaint and censure, to those of commendation—and, in this view of the case, as less space will suffice us in political discussion, we shall be enabled to render to our readers a weekly compend of what else is transpiring in the world around it.

We shall have a competent friend at Washington, and at Jefferson, and thus be enabled to present the earliest and most authentic accounts of the proceedings of the National and State Legislatures.

The Markets, including weekly prices current in St. Louis and New Orleans, with whatever else may seem of interest or advantage to the agricultural community, shall receive proper and regular attention. In short—in addition to the hope inspired by our reliance, of being able to maintain, unimpaird, the high political reputation of the sheet, we expect to render it an interesting and valuable Family Newspaper, which may be looked into, with profit and pleasure, by all classes of society.

As the period of the approaching Presidential election will present a convenient opportunity of testing our reliance upon the liberality of our friends, we shall cherish it as a favor if each of our present subscribers will show this prospectus to his neighbors and acquaintances, and forward us a list of such names as may be procured directly afterwards.

TERMS.—Three dollars, payable at any time before President HARRISON is inaugurated.—Four dollars at the end of the year.

FANCY PRINTS—300 ps Fancy Prints 50 ps Blue Merrimacks. 10 ps Chambrays for sale by RICHARD H. LAW.

Boston Notion,
THE LARGEST NEWSPAPER IN THE WORLD.

THE spirit of the age is utilitarian. Improvement is stamped upon the face of every thing. All the useful arts are progressing with unparalleled rapidity; and the art of printing is coming in for its full share of the common improvement. Determined not to be outdone in any thing that pertains to his profession, where there is a fair chance for exertion and enterprise, the undersigned has determined upon issuing a sheet twice the size of the Boston Weekly Times, [and to take the place of that paper] and will contain eight columns more matter than the Boston Weekly Times. This sheet will be called the BOSTON NOTION, and it is determined it shall fully sustain a cognomen so full of meaning, and so interwoven with the established character of our Yankee City: It will be the largest newspaper in the world—and no exception, and will be printed on a sheet thirty-seven by fifty two inches. It will be entirely filled with reading matter; and will contain three thousand eight hundred and eighty eight square feet of print in fine type; and a single number will contain more reading than an ordinary book of three hundred pages.—These great dimensions will enable the publisher to draw largely upon the most popular periodicals and magazines of the day, both American and Foreign; and as the selections will be made with great care, it is believed this paper will be a welcome NOTION in every family. Besides a new synopsis of the current news of the day (as published in the Boston Daily Times) it will contain Poetry, Popular Fables, Theatrical Criticisms, Police, and other Court Reports, Humorous articles, &c. &c.

The whole world of literature will be ransacked to fill it. From the study of Philosophy, down to the Police Court, through all the regions of reason, poetry, romance, wit, and the ample record of folly, we shall glean from the past and present, and from all nations, to present as pleasing and useful combinations of recorded thoughts and current history, as the world can produce. This is our "BOSTON NOTION."

The great amount of wisdom and fun—of wit and philosophy—of novelties and antiquities—we are enabled to offer weekly for six cents per copy: only six cents and we can do it because of the facilities of our press and office, and the connections of daily and weekly publications. For three dollars we can sell a year's volume equal in quality of matter; with every variety also, to fifty two volumes of novels, such as are issued from the press of this day. Fifty two large volumes for three dollars! Effected all by improved machinery, and by a determination that we will not be outdone in enterprise and usefulness.

TERMS.
THREE DOLLARS a year, always in advance. No orders, matter from what source, will be attended to, unless accompanied with the CASH. Single copies, six cents each.

Post Masters or others, remitting twenty dollars shall have eight copies sent to such persons and places as they may designate.
Mail subscribers will have their papers deposited in the Post Office in this city every Saturday evening.

GEORGE ROBERTS, Publisher.
POSTSCRIPT. THE NOTION will be published on a DOUBLED SHEET, every three months and sent gratuitously to all subscribers who have paid for one year.
